Pack 14 — Job Descriptions Library | Ref: P14-00

Fifty job descriptions written for Indian SME and startup hiring, plus the method behind them.

WHAT THIS PACK IS

Fifty job descriptions across eight functions, written for companies of ten to five hundred people in India, where one person usually covers what three cover in a large organisation.

They are not aspirational specialist descriptions copied from a multinational careers page. Each one reflects what the role actually does in a growing Indian company, which is why they attract candidates who will accept the offer rather than candidates who are surprised in week two.

THERE ARE NO SALARY FIGURES IN THIS PACK, AND THAT IS DELIBERATE

Every JD has a [salary band] placeholder. File 11 is a benchmarking workbook you fill from your own closed offers.

Published salary ranges go stale within months, swing wildly by city and funding stage, and the moment you quote one and lose a candidate on it, the number is blamed. Your own offer data is more accurate than anything a template could print, and it compounds in value every time you close a role.
